How It All Began

ABERJONA

Ancient legends, redmen's legends
Tell us stories strange and true;
And there is one, is an old one
May hap never heard by you.

Once a redman, redman Aber
And a maiden were in love,
But her father kept them parted
So they prayed to the god above.

Then in secret, secret meeting
By the river near the lake
Maiden Jona and her Aber
Plotted there their lives to take;

That in heaven, heaven happy
They two might together be.
In the river leaped they slyly
Hoping thus their souls to free;

Thus the legend, legend tells us
What this story came to mean
How this joining Aberjona
Came to name our well known stream.

Preface

This year is a banner year for Winchester High School. Not only is it the fiftieth anniversary of the high school itself, but the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Aberjona as well. The '54 Aberjona offers a double feature, too, a contrast between 1929 and 1954, and even a peek into the future with the class of '54's interpretation of the new Winchester High School. There is one thing here which has never changed and never shall and that is the spirit of the student body and the pride and loyalty they feel in their school. This, the class of '54, not only bequeaths to all incoming classes but takes with it to aid and influence them throughout their entire life.

To Morse,

Of Course

do we, the Class of Nineteen Fifty-Four, dedicate our Aberjona. We shall always remember your unique versatility, inimitable imitations, cooperation, and friendliness. Thanks also for keeping your sense of humor in dealing with our seemingly hopeless problems. Your natural personality and sincere devotion have proven to us that you are a true leader and a fine friend.

Aberjona Staff

Out of the confusion of ballots, write-ups, photographs, and drawings came the organization, workmanship, and decisions which resulted in the finished product. Members of this year's Aberjona staff pooled their ideas and originality to prepare a book with all the standard equipment plus interesting extras.

Among the many students whose help was indispensable were Sheila Scanlon, Kent Wright, Betty Lou Martenson, and John Merritt who used their artistic talent to draw the many sketches, cartoons, and miniatures; Bobby Crockett and his circulation staff who spent their time and energy drumming up Aberjona subscriptions; members of the advertising staff headed by Peg McNally, Madeline Derro, and Bill Hosmer who solicited the necessary ads; and last, but by no means least, the editorial board including Sally Cunningham, Sheila Gallivan, Martha Halloran, Patty Page, Sheila Scanlon, and Bob Willing who under the direction of editor-in-chief, Sylvia Barnaby, and managing editor, Don Palladino, toiled many long and tedious hours to publish a bigger and better yearbook for 1954.

Full of enthusiasm, the class of '54 descended upon Wadleigh after two eventful years at the Junior High. Highlights of our first year . . . the surplus of candidates for class officers with Dave Pratt, Jackie Beggs, Craig Muncaster, and Nancy Morse finally chosen to pilot us . . . our undefeated freshman football team . . . our first high school dance—"Summer Memories" . . . the long trek from Wadleigh to the building on the hill . . . the assembly with Bob and Ray . . . frequent detentions for tramping across Wadleigh lawns (?) . . . the day everybody was late—fire in the Lyceum Building . . . Miss Bailey's "Now, kids" . . . our first trip to the Tech Tourney . . . double desks in Room 8 . . . the fire escape in Mr. Jason's room . . . being represented in the Vaudeville Show by a chosen few . . . our almost undefeated basketball team . . . rare glimpses of upper classmen. After successfully passing our first final exams, we became actual members of the "big school."

Starting our second year at W. H. S. off on the right foot we elected Tom Cahill, Jackie Beggs, Anne Bledsoe, and Mitzi Mawn to keep us on the straight and narrow way. We remember . . . climbing the three flights of steps every morning to homeroom . . . Rocky Jope and Marcia Lynch helping to lead our cheers for the Class B Champs . . . Mr. Finigan's geometry problems . . . installing the new lockers . . . grasshoppers from Room 30 turning up in sandwiches . . . struggling with the strange machines in Room 11 and the mysteries of shorthand . . . sophomore girls and senior boys . . . licenses for the privileged few . . . Reade Goodwin's accident . . . contributing our talent to help make Vaudeville a success . . . fighting Caesar's battles under Will B . . . enthusiastically joining every organization. When the smoke had cleared after we punctuated Mr. Hayward's poetical exam, we found ourselves upperclassmen.

At last we were Juniors and we made the most of it. Dave Pratt, Jackie Beggs, Buddy McKinley, and Mitzi Mawn were elected to lead our class on to bigger and better things. Looking back . . . John Riordan and Dave Pratt adding their talents to the football team . . . John Becker running cross country . . . installing the new boilers . . . Miss Baldwin's unforgettable French classes . . . Alison Hersey on the field hockey team . . . those puzzling chemistry experiments . . . Mr. Bartlett's ambiguous statements . . . the first bridal shower on a W. H. S. stage . . . Joe DiIorio and Dave Pratt playing for us at the Garden . . . Donkey Basketball . . . the German measles epidemic . . . Mr. Butters'—"Thanks for coming!" . . . taking over the Red and Black from the senior staff . . . our first class play, "Stardust" with John Swazey as the unforgettable Mr. Bach plus the six other junior members of the cast . . . Gracie van Hulsteyn's farewell party . . . a stupendous Vaudeville Show . . . proudly displaying our class rings . . . National Honor Society for the lucky six. When the lights of our first prom had dimmed we realized that we were the seniors now.

After a wonderful summer we came back to the hallowed halls to carry on in the tradition of seniors—the eldest and the ablest. Dave Pratt, the only candidate for president, was elected for the third time and Bobby McLaughlin, Mary Rehm, and Bobby Willing were chosen to guide our final year. Remember . . . Don Palladino heading the Student Council . . . Johnny Riordan's team winning seven, tying one, losing one . . . Alison Hersey leading the field hockey team in an undefeated season . . . the cross-country team under John Becker winning five and losing two . . . the cheering section at the Woburn pep rally led by A. A. president, Denny Doucette . . . John Becker and Patty Page slaving over the Red and Black . . . Dr. Gilson taking Dr. Norris's place . . . Sheila Scanlon—D. A. R. Award and president of GIC . . . having our Aberjona pictures taken . . . the extremely successful operetta, The Fortune Teller, starring Louise Orgettas . . . Dave Pratt and Joe Dilorio captaining the basketball team . . . Aberjona deadlines . . . long arguments about the Vaudeville . . . "Tex's" interpretations of Macbeth, vocabulary quizzes, and shoulder massages . . . Jim Cusack's broken leg . . . Mrs. Stacy's tests and Epic of America . . . the library rush—8:15-8:30 A. M.; 2:30-2:45 P. M. . . . Mr. Hayward's rules of parliamentary procedure . . . the GIC Fashion Show and Mother-Daughter Tea . . . speculation about the new school . . . Marilyn Dyer and Andy Robertson in Follow the Dream . . . "Doc" Alley's experiments in physics . . . those terrible mid-year exams . . . studying for the college boards . . . classmates leaving for the business world . . . spring sports captains—Bobby McLaughlin for baseball, Peg McNally for softball, Tom Ordway and Jimmy Moulton for boys' tennis, Prue Morton for girls' racqueteers, Guerry Eaton and Paul O'Brien for track . . . being accepted by colleges . . . the success of the Prom . . . Class Night . . . Graduation. Thus, having left a lasting impression on the history of W. H. S. and remembering our school days, we can now relax before looking for new heights to conquer.

Class Will

We, the Class of 1954, being of sound mind and body, do hereby ordain this to be our last will and testament. We charge our said beneficiaries to execute to the fullest the bequests bestowed upon them.

I, Dave Pratt, leave my versatility to Joe Bellino.

We, Sheila Scanlon and Don Palladino, leave our executive ability to Bobbi Venardi and Brad Johnson.

I, Bill Jesdale, leave my "top-shelf" ability in English to one of next year's struggling senior college English students.

I, Rocky Joep, leave my boundless pep and energy to Betty Rowlingson.

We, John Becker and Patty Page, leave our Red and Black deadlines.

I, Joe DiIorio, leave my adeptness on the basketball court to Jimmy Wright.

I, Jane Chisholm, leave my cute looks to Stephanie Yale.

We, Grace McPeake, Pat Aitken, Kathy Ardini, and Vivian Bullard, leave our sweet ways, knowing that they can never be replaced.

We, Natalie Anderson and Leeta Berman, leave the Strike Lanes to Janet Keene and Lois Erb.

I, Polly Kroell, leave for Donnie.

We, Janice Allen, Marie Ferri, Madeline Derro, and Rita Devlin, leave our great enthusiasm for driving to future W. H. S. drivers.

We, Marguerite and Marjorie Anderson, leave our identical ways to Cynthia and Catherine Ayer.

I, Bill Hosmer, leave my good-natured ways to Charlie Newton.

I, Kent Wright, leave my artistic ability to Chris Fentross.

We, Sheila Gallivan and Sally Cunningham, leave with the other members of the W. H. S. Always Active Association.

We, Claire Hilgedick and John Swazey, leave our open-houses to anyone who can surpass them.

I, Buddy McKinley, leave my winning ways with women to Dave Rotundi.

We, Bob McLaughlin, Ralph Kerrigan, and Bob Paine, regretfully leave our careers as W. H. S. hockey players.

I, Nancy Ivers, leave my petit figure to Dell Mitchell.

I, Jack Beggs, leave my man of the world attitude to Tony Mucera.

We, Mary Lou Armstrong and Nancy Oexle, regretfully leave room 17.

I, Ralph Paonessa, gleefully leave 8 o'clock detention hall.

I, Prudy Morton, leave with the unique distinction of being the only girl taking math 4.

I, Janet Graves, leave my sparkling smile to Sue Clark.

To Betty Bellino do I, Marcia Lynch, leave my friendly philosophy.

I, Bob Crockett, leave the Philosophy Club to Mr. Skerry.

I, Martha Halloran, leave a space hard to fill.

We, John Butler and Grace van Hulsteyn, leave our zany ways to Jerry Lewis and Martha Ray.

I, Jasper Asaro, leave my complete oblivion of chemistry.

I, Bill Eriksen, leave, driving my little blue hot rod.

I, Lee Griffin, leave my gullibility at W. H. S.

We, Dick Garrett, John Bushell, and Reade Goodwin, regretfully leave the Christmas tree business.

I, Alison Hersey, leave for the Olympic Ski Team.

I, Sylvia Barnaby, leave my unquenchable good spirits to W. H. S.

I, Nancy Morse, take my flirtatious ways with me, knowing they will come in handy.

I, Bernie Callahan, leave my angelic disposition to Charlie Urmson.

We, Jim Ekstrom, Louie Bruno, and Guerry Eaton, leave our posts in "Cooper's Troopers" to next year's tallest traffic officers.

I, Mitsy Mawn, the smallest boy in the senior class, leave my cherished title to Willy Cox.

We, Betty Ann Joyce and Dottie Mingins, leave our creative ability.

I, Sue Donnell, leave my soft low voice to Miss Anifantis.

We, Ruth Wilson, Carol Frotton, Roberta Linnell, and Ginny Heitz, leave our seats in the Town Line to Dee Dee Ring, Lolly Louongo, Nancy Samarco, and Phyllis Rizzo.

To Jill Sibley and Judy Fowler do I, Jock Willis, leave my piano stool for it will take two to fill it.

I, Bill Laverty, leave my jovial manner to Bill Harlow.

To Bob Hosmer do I, George Govostes, leave my easy-going manner.

We, Paul O'Brien and Bob Jacobellis, leave our ability on the gridiron to Bob Haggerty and Frank Dattilo.

I, Jim Moulton, leave my superior tennis ability to Don Folkers.

I, Malcolm Johnston, leave to build the longest bridge in the world.

I, Bill Johnston, leave my cute looks to Bill Ross.

We, Sally Elliott and "Red" Lovetere, leave our red tresses to Diane d'Elseaux and Thomas Dwiney.

I, Pete McElhinney, leave a soft spot in Mrs. Stacy's heart.

We, Ann Nahigian, Charlene Macfarlane, Marcia Cunningham, and Nancy Vaughan, leave the building to the termites—if they'll have it!

We, Carol Brown and Sandra Wittet, leave our golden locks.

We, Sandra Kelleher, Barb Donnelly, and Marie Dellovo, leave with our quiet, efficient ways.

I, Ted Johnston, leave my vast knowledge of history to any needy junior.

I, Dennie Doucette, leave my love for open-houses to Frank Cullen.

I, Ed Rodgers, leave my happy-go-lucky ways to Charlie Allen.

We, John Riordan, Tom Cahill, Randy Kazazian, Tony Barbaro, Al Lindsey, and Babe Mantini, leave.

And we, Barbara Harrigan, Mary Rehm, and Bill Sullivan, leave the trials and tribulations of writing the Class Will to these hallowed halls of W. H. S.

Student Council

Once again, the Student Council, with Mr. Cooper as advisor, completed a successful year of student government. Headed by its officers, President Don Palladino, Vice-President Connie Snelling, Secretary Marcia Lynch, Treasurer Paul O'Brien and a "suggestion-full" executive board, the Council kept up its fine reputation by active participation in and around school affairs.

Leading the list of accomplishments of this year's Student Council are the sale of Sachem book covers and the sending of delegates to the two Student Council conventions. Dave Pratt was elected to represent Winchester High School in the annual Good Government Day program. As customary, the Council ran the class elections smoothly and efficiently. In response to many requests of the students, the Council brought the WHS decals back into circulation. Early in February, the Council sponsored an assembly; a quartet from Harvard put on a fine show to somewhat ease the tension just before report cards. A dance late in March put the finishing touches on a successful and most profitable year.

This worth-while organization always starts the year off with a bang, getting one hundred per cent membership throughout the entire high school. It is the only extra-curricular activity that exists for the benefit of those outside Winchester High School. Throughout the school year Junior Red Cross members are actively engaged in various useful projects. Among these are gathering old clothes for the Save the Children Federation, collecting new Christmas cards for the veterans at Bedford Hospital, donating magazine subscriptions and protective covers to the Winchester Hospital, plus several other valuable services of a similar nature.

This year's Red Cross officers under the competent guidance of Miss Bronson are Thomas Ordway, President; Don Palladino, Vice-President; Adele Mitchell, Secretary; and Ruth Flaherty, Treasurer. Ann Marks is chairman of publicity, while Bonnie Bein is production chairman. In addition to these leaders, the board members and homeroom representatives also contribute their time and effort to enable this organization to perform its many useful services for others.

The Red and Black

At the end of its sixteenth consecutive year, the Red and Black is still the vocal organ of W. H. S. Headed by Co-editors John Becker and Patty Page, the senior staff, consisting of Sheila Gallivan, Judie Higgins, Sheila Scanlon, Nancy Ayer, Martha Halloran, Paul O'Brien, and Henry Morgan, successfully put out the first four issues. As is the custom at W. H. S., the paper was turned over to an eager group of textbook junior journalists half-way through the year.

Both staffs this year introduced "something new and different." A new movable nameplate which simplified front page make-up; the use of a variety of types; a different policy on covering school news; and the new style of makeup in the Senior Sketches were noticeable improvements. Writing, typing, copy-reading, and headlining the copy, making up the paper and proof-reading, viewing the finished product, and keeping the Red and Black out of the red have become routine to the two staffs. All those who have combined their talents and served on the Red and Black declared it well worth the time and effort put into producing nine very worthwhile papers.

National Honor Society

Character, scholarship, leadership, and service are four qualities everyone would like to possess. Election to the National Honor Society, the highest honor Winchester High confers, requires these four qualities. Only five per cent of the junior class and fifteen per cent of the senior class can be selected from the upper third of the class. Both students and faculty vote on the final membership. Miss Bronson and Mr. Keeney act as advisors.

Quill and Scroll

To reward those outstanding in any field of journalism the Quill and Scroll honorary society was added in 1949. Only those in the upper third of the class are eligible for selection by the national headquarters. Each candidate is also judged on the quality of a story or article submitted. New members are initiated each spring after they have shown their excellence. This international society aids high school journalism by contests and a critical service.

National Thespian Society

One hundred hours of work on a dramatic production elects Curtain and Cue members to the National Thespian Society, Troupe 729. This work can be in any phase of dramatics—acting, stage crew, committees, prompting, or production. Additional awards up to the Five Star award are available to those who qualify for them. This year's group, headed by John Swazey with Mr. Morse as advisor, held another induction in the spring.

Curtain and Cue

Victor Herbert's operetta The Fortune Teller was produced by the Curtain and Cue and the combined Glee Clubs in December. At Christmas the play Christmas Spirit was produced and directed by three of the club members. During the year club members have been working with the Mystic School Mother's Association in a program of dramatics for the grade school. The club held three regular meetings and several others pertaining to special areas of dramatics. As in past years a play was sent to the Massachusetts Drama Festival.

Working with Mr. Morse, our able director, were the officers of the club: President, James Andrew Robertson; Vice-President, Gail Stratton; Secretary, Sheila Gallivan; Treasurer, John Becker.

Thrift Association

Once again the Winchester High Thrift Association reached its usual fine record of ninety-nine per cent. Much of the credit went to the students of the school who realized the importance of saving. It was amazing the amounts that were banked each week—ranging from $400 to $750.

With Mrs. Stacy as advisor, this organization has run smoothly and efficiently for several years. Thanks to the homeroom bankers President Steven Dunn and Vice-Presidents Brad Johnson and Dick Clark managed to get the money to Judie Higgins and her assistants Sue Clark and Ellen Glowacki on time. These girls computed the results and passed them on to Nancy Vaughn who typed them up for the school and bank records.

Traffic Squad

Alert, dependable, always on the job; that's this year's "Cooper's Troopers." They can often be seen at their various posts with sandwiches, advertising "Out of this World" dances and the '54 Aberjona. Though little appreciated by the student body, the Traffic Squad is essential to the safety of every student at W. H. S. Many of the students who attempt to live dangerously are soon dissuaded by the wise admonitions of their anxious guardians. Because a great deal of space is needed in the corridors, the Traffic Squad does its best to relieve the crowded halls by keeping the traffic moving in an orderly fashion. This year's T. S., under the watchful eyes of faculty advisor, Mr. Cooper, is headed by student president Bill Sullivan and consists of several bright, alert boys who have accomplished much in preserving order on the stairs, in the halls, and especially during the chaotic rush of "B" Lunch.

Science Club

The Science Club began another successful year under the capable guidance of Dr. Alley, who was always on hand when things went wrong. Under the usual parliamentary procedure in the Physics Lab., advocated by Dr. Alley, nominations and elections were held with the following results: President, Craig Muncaster; Vice-President, Bobby McLaughlin; Secretary, Alison Hersey; Treasurer, Paul O'Brien; and Executive Board—David Pratt, Robert Willing, Thomas Ordway, and Harold McKinley. The meetings, held on the second Thursday of each month, consisted of a varied program of movies and demonstrations. Later on in the season, the club participated in a tour of the Boston Science Museum. This year's club lived up to its previous reputation with about fifty-five paid members.

Math Club

Under the able guidance of Mr. Butters the Math Club has really come to life this year. The membership at our meetings has grown from a few loyal people to a roomful of enthusiastic and interested mathematicians. Although the seniors are supposed to have more brains, the juniors are right on their toes and do their part in making meetings "click." It's fun to try your luck at problems without worrying about grades. No one cares how well you do as long as you have fun and perhaps learn a little. The members are looking forward to the math contest in the spring when the two most able juniors and the two brainiest seniors will show just how good they really are. We know they'll all do well, so congratulations in advance.

The Math Club is open only to Juniors and Seniors, so we are depending on you eager Sophomores to make the club even bigger and better next year.

Philosophy Club

The Philosophy Club, keeping up with changing world affairs, has held sessions on various topics, from family relations to Communism. Different aspects of these subjects were taken up, resulting in intelligent and heated arguments on the part of the members. A number of speakers gave interesting talks and later led discussions with most of the philosophers voicing their opinions. Although order was usually maintained at the meetings, Mr. Skerry, acting as arbiter aequissimus, occasionally stepped in to make a quick change in the subject. There was much to be learned by the interesting and sometimes boisterous discussions. The Great Mediator has been aided by the officers of this organization, Bob Crockett, President; Warren Goodnow, Vice-President; Bill Johnston, Secretary; and Nancy Oexle, Assistant Secretary. Influenced by these monthly sessions, the loyal Philosophy Club members acquired new views and more informed ideas of current events.

Club Cervantes

Mr. Kotkov: "Es el Club Cervantes un buen club, muchachos?"

Muchochos: "Ya la creo!"

The Spanish Club is one of the most active clubs at Winchester High School and will continue to be under the capable supervision of Mr. Kotkov.

We in the Spanish Club, Club Cervantes, think it is quite an organization. This year we sponsored a barbecue for all Spanish students so that everybody could get together and meet each other. Later on in December we went into Boston and saw the wonderful Spanish folk-dancing of Jose Greco and his company.

This spring there will be a secret initiation for Spanish students with "B" averages who wish to become members of our club. Toward the end of school we have planned another outing, probably a barbecue, in honor of the departing seniors in the club.

Yes, the Spanish Club is quite active under the able leadership of its President, Marie Ferri; Vice-President, Diana d'Elseaux; and, of course, the good advice of Mr. Kotkov.

Band

Under the very able and inspiring leadership of our hard working director, Mr. Fred Felmet, the band has had a most successful and enjoyable year. This busy year included a full football schedule, an outstanding band concert, participation in the State Festival, playing for Memorial Day Parade and En-Ka Street Fair.

This year the Band members elected Billy Eriksen, President; Stan Mullen, Vice-President; and Bob Willing, Secretary-Treasurer. With graduation there will be many gaps left in the band; but, with the enthusiasm that Winchester has for the band, it is needless to say that Mr. Felmet will have these gaps filled almost immediately. We know that the Band will continue to add color and excitement to many school functions in the future.

Orchestra

Composed of thirty members, the Winchester Orchestra plays a carefully selected repertoire of music which emphasizes each section and attempts to suit all tastes. Each member gains a deeper appreciation of good music.

One of the highlights of this year was the combining with the Arlington Orchestra in January to give a concert for both high schools. Such numbers as Some Enchanted Evening from South Pacific, selections from the New Moon, and Port Royal, 1861, which emphasized the string section, were enjoyed by the audiences. Winchester was also well represented at the Massachusetts All-State Orchestra. Under the patient, talented, and understanding direction of Mr. Fred Felmet, ably assisted on the string section by Mr. Theodore Janner, this organization is constantly increasing in size and ability. Officers are Don Palladino, President; Marilyn Dyer, Vice-President; and Anne Whiton, Secretary.

The Mixed Glee Club

The Mixed Glee Club, one of the school's outstanding choral groups, successfully showed what long and strenuous rehearsals can accomplish. The W. H. S. production of Victor Herbert's The Fortune Teller was put on jointly with the other glee clubs and the Curtain and Cue in December. At the conclusion of the Christmas Assembly, the club sang December, A Joyous Month For All, a song which included the story and music for the Jewish festival, Hanukkah, and the Christian story of Christmas. It was the first time that any such program had been presented at the school. Under the capable direction of Miss Anifantis and its officers, President, Madeline Derro; Vice-President, Bob Deroo; and Accompanist, Jock Willis, the group continued its activities into spring with a performance at the Congregational Church. The Mixed Glee Club was represented by Roland Gailitis in the All-State Chorus. The annual Spring Concert, April 30, brought to a close a very worthwhile year for the club.

At Piano: Judy Fowler.
Left to Right: C. Damon, G. Wadsworth, C. Snelling,
 N. Ayer, S. Wittet, B. Hickey, L. Orgettas, M. Rehm.

Octette

As in past years, the Octette sang at the Christmas Assembly, the Spring Concert, and the State Music Festival. This year, however, the girls made many other appearances. They sang for the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church, the Masons, the Mothers' Club of the Lincoln School, and the GIC's Mother-Daughter Tea. Many of these performances also featured solos by Louise Orgettas. The group was ably directed by Miss Anifantis, and accompanied by Judy Fowler.

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Eleanor Anifantis, made its initial appearance at the Christmas Assembly. The girls also sang at a meeting of the Masons, the Spring Concert, and the Massachusetts State Music Festival, where they have always received a superior rating. Two senior Glee Club members, Carol Brown and Carol Damon, represented the group in the Massachusetts All-State Chorus. The officers elected by the girls were Louise Orgettas, President; Nancy Ayer, Vice-President; and Judy Fowler, Accompanist.

Key Notes

Since their organization two years ago the Key Notes have come to be one of WHS's standard attractions. Consisting of twelve members chosen for their outstanding voices, the group has participated in the Christmas Assemblies, Vaudeville Show, and the Spring Concert.

Left to Right: D. Rotundi, B. Ross, B. Harlow, T. Stowe, T. Mucera, R. Johnston, S. Weston, J. Swazey, S. Mullen, C. Adams.
At the Piano: B. Johnson.

Boys' Glee Club

Under the capable direction of Miss Anifantis the Boys' Glee Club has been quite active this year. It performed at the Christmas Assembly, the Spring Concert, and many of the members participated in the operetta, The Fortune Teller. This year's officers are Randolph Kazazian, President, and Dave Rotundi, Vice-President.

First Row: J. Sibley, A. Hertig, J. Sullivan, R. Gibbons, R. Kazazian, D. Rotundi, R. Quigley, Q. Roberts, D. Harold, Miss Anifantis. Second Row: P. Frotten, D. Eldridge, T. Stowe, P. Franson, P. The Fortune Teller

WHS had its fortune told in this year's sparkling production of The Fortune Teller by Victor Herbert. Louise Orgettas in the title role sang her way from the gypsy forest to the palace with Brad Johnson as her gypsy sweetheart. Seth Weston as the dancing master and John Swazey as the Count provided the humor while Connie Snelling and Chris Adams were the young lovers.

Follow The Dream

Chosen for the Class Play was Follow the Dream. Joan Morrison (Marilyn Dyer) grows from an awkward youngster to a girl in love with Ricardo (Seth Weston) and the typical American, Spike Harrison (Andy Robertson). Joan is further "aided" by her "faithful" friends Kay (Louise Orgettas), Tex (Nancy Ayer), and Jessa (Chandra Carlson). Aiding Joan were her father (John Swazey), mother (Frances McGrath), and brother (John Becker). Sheila Scanlon, Don Folkers, Patty Page, Gail Stratton, Sandra Kelleher, Cecil Pride, John Butler, Stanley Mullen, and Brad Johnson were the rest of the cast.

This year the GIC was entirely reorganized, providing a widely varied program for non-athletes as well as athletes as before. Among the projects inaugurated by President Sheila Scanlon and her board of twelve, advised by Miss Barnes and Miss Bernhoft, were a fashion show, mother-daughter teas, a food auction, talent show, an informative lecture series, fall and spring dances, and the annual auction. Both to aid the Executive Board in determining the girls' interests and to give out the new membership cards, new homeroom representatives were elected early in the school year. A permanent GIC column was formed in the Red and Black and a GIC assembly was held to explain the new plans. Officers of this year's board were Vice-President, Dorothy Pratt; Secretary, Linda Thomson; and Treasurer, Sally Cunningham.

Athletic Association

The Athletic Association of Winchester High School supports a sporting program that we are all proud of. Each year, something new in the way of uniforms is added to a team, and this year was no exception with new pants, pads, and helmets being purchased for the football team. Also, by allowing members of the association a reduced admission price at home games, membership in the organization and attendance at the games has been very good all year. This points out the success of the association in its job of supporting sports.

Socially, this year has been a success under the direction of the social secretary, Janet Graves. The annual Fall Sports and Mid-Winter Dances were well attended, and a good time was had by all. The success of an organization like this is due to a little cooperation from each member. If, in the future, the Athletic Association functions as well as it has this year, the student body need not worry about the sporting activities of the high school.

Varsity Club

The Varsity Club, under the able direction of our popular coach, Henry Knowlton, is the club which all male athletes at W. H. S. aspire to join. The only qualification needed in order to join this club is a varsity letter in any sport. Each year it has been the policy of the Varsity Club to promote some sort of a project. In the past few years the club has alternately presented the hilarious game of Donkey Basketball and the magnificent exhibition by the Springfield College Gym Team. This year neither the gym team nor the Donkey Basketball could be lined up for a night of entertainment, so the club is going to sponsor something different. The proceeds from the annual project are used by the A. A. to help pay for the cost of taking pictures of the football games. Aside from its activities, the Varsity Club strives to encourage good sportsmanship on and off the field of play. The club this year is headed by Dave Pratt, President; Tim Hennessey, Vice-President; Bob McLaughlin, Secretary; and John Riordan, Treasurer.

Cheerleaders

"Winchester, Winchester, come on through!"—they're always rooting hard for you. From September to March, through football and basketball seasons, the 'leven limber lassies led by Captain Rocky Jope made a snappy appearance as they cheered and sang the teams on to victory. Their traditional black blazers worn in the fall, come basketball season, were exchanged for black corduroy middies (made by the girls themselves), but their spirit and loyalty never changed.

Everywhere—at home and away—Winchester is noted for its enthusiastic rooters. Well-coached teams + faithful followers + energetic cheerleaders = the magic formula for the good sportsmanship and success of WHS.

Football

Starting the season off slowly with a 13-0 loss at Concord, the football squad then began to improve more each week, and after tying a highly favored Watertown team 13-13, Knowlton's Warriors went on to win all their remaining games. Winthrop was first to fall under the treads of our winning squad, 31-16. Then came Stoneham, Melrose, the squad's first real test, Reading, and Belmont, each falling successively under scores of 28-13, 20-13, 39-6, and 28-12. By far the most anticipated game of the year was with Wakefield, the team rated first in the state, and the squad, reaching the climax of their improvement, operated like a well-oiled machine and proceeded to crush a very discouraged Wakefield team, 28-13. The only unfortunate accident of the season occurred, in this game when Jim Cusack broke his leg. The Turkey Day tilt with Woburn brought the season to a successful close with seven wins, one loss, and one tie with a total season score of 226 points for, and 102 points against the team.

Field Hockey

"Are we going to lose?" "No!" "Are we going to win?" "Yes!" With these words pushing them on, the varsity field hockey team surged through to an undefeated season, winning five and tying two. Playing in the forward line were Jan Graves, Captain Alison Hersey, Betty Anne Haggerty, Sue Donnell, Dianne McNeill, and Marilyn Dyer. Always there behind them were Marty Halloran, Sally Cunningham, Judie Higgins, Gracie van Hulsteyn, Peggy McNally, Sheila Gallivan, Nancy Gail Hanford, and Nancy Morse. The best played game of the season was against Lexington, when, coming from behind, Winchester drove through to a 1 to 1 tie. Other teams yielding to the Red and Black were Stoneham, 1-0; Melrose, 1-0; Watertown, 4-1; and Malden, 4-0. In the last game of the season Arlington tied Winchester in a closely fought duel, 2-2.

The team was kept on the go all season by Coach Mildred Barnes. The J. V.'s had a creditable record of six wins and one tie. The varsity will be captained next year by fullback Dottie Pratt.

Cross Country

With only three returning varsity lettermen, Coach Morse's cross country team won four and lost only two of its dual meets. Victories were chalked up against Concord, Woburn, Everett Vocational, and Revere, while the only losses were to Wellesley and the Class B champs, Wakefield. In two practice meets the harriers whipped Malden Catholic and bowed to the Boston University freshmen by seven points. Meanwhile, the J. V.'s were undefeated, winning easily over their opponents. In the Pilgrim Division meet at Essex, the locals ran through mud and rain to place third. The Middlesex League meet found the varsity sixth, while the J. V.'s ran their best race of the season to take second. The home team bounced back in the State meet, capturing third place. Winchester's ace, Lou Farrell, ran a great race to become Winchester's first State Champ in several years. In addition, Lou set records on the Woburn and Winchester courses and tied the Wellesley record. Other top runners of the year were Captain John Becker, Dick Borggaard, Henry Morgan, Bob Becker, Don Palladino, and Bob Smith.

First Row: B. Bellino, A. Mitchell, C. Driscoll, N. Donaghey, N. Samarco, S. Lanigan, C. Curry. Second Row: J. Robertson, S. Clark, R. Freeman, R. Venardi, D. Pratt, G. Long, M. Coon, J. Girls' Basketball

The girls' answer to the Boston Celtics is right here in Winchester High (at least we think so). The team is composed of such stars as Alison Hersey, Diane McNeill, Florence Newton, Sheila Gallivan, and Gracie van Hulsteyn as forwards, with Captain Sally Cunningham, Peggy McNally, Mary Lou Armstrong and Prudy Morton holding down the vital guarding positions.

Under the able coaching of Miss Mildred "Don't insult their intelligence!" Barnes, the team really shaped up "into the proverbial triple threat." The schedule included games with Watertown, Melrose, Concord, Belmont, Lexington, and the arch rival, Arlington. The season was a good one even though the Arlington game had a rather unsatisfactory result.

The J. V.'s came along nicely and should prove more than a match for their next year's competitors.

Picking up after the team and waiting out those long hours in the office were the two faithful managers, Bonnie Bein and Carol Damon.

Hockey

Coach Finigan had only three lettermen in his starting line-up: Captain Bob McLaughlin, Wayne Cowles, and Bob Paine. Forty-five men turned out for the first practice session and while the squad was not as heavy as in previous years, the boys gave a good account of themselves.

The team opened the season with a decisive 3-1 victory over Beverly. They beat the Boston champs, Boston Latin 5-4. The string snapped, and they lost to Lynn English 4-3. W. H. S. played Hebron Academy in Maine and lost a close 4-3 decision. The coach of the Hebron team and the dean of the academy thought it was the best game played at their school and have invited W. H. S. up there for another game next year. As the guests of Lawrence Academy the team spoiled the day for Lawrence with a 4-0 win.

First Row: J. Wright, J. Bellino, L. Farrell, D. Pratt, H. McKinley, J. Lynch. Second Row: Mr. Knowlton, N. Nelson, P. Gove, R. Rimbach, B. Kneeland, W. Ross, W. Goodnow, Mr. Bartlett. Third Row: W. Hosmer, M. Apsey, B. Smith, R. Johnston, F. Dattilo, R. Willing.

Boys' Basketball

This year's Red and Black hoopsters had only two returning lettermen, in Co-Captains Joe DiIorio and Dave Pratt. It appeared that the Bartlettmen would have their ups and downs because of their inexperience. Nevertheless, these high spirited boys, under the tireless coaching of the popular W. H. S. basketball mentor, Ted Bartlett, quickly proved themselves to be high among the league contenders. Gaining experience through pre-season scrimmages and three non-league games, the Indians then forged through four undefeated league games until they met the talented Belmont five in a closely contested game with Belmont coming out on top by a score of 59-54. The highly touted Lexington quintet then came to town and won a 56-48 decision.

Showing continual improvement, the Sachems went on to roll up a fine seasons record of 18-5, which qualified them for the Teck Tourney preliminaries. They took a big step toward the championship by beating Swampscott. Although rated the "dark-horse team," through constant determination and drive, the Indians won dramatic two-point victories over Methuen and arch-rival Belmont. A greatly inspired, high-spirited team met Lexington, Middlesex League champs, in the finals and squeezed out a 52 to 50 victory to become the Eastern Mass. champs for the second time in three years.

Girls' Tennis

As soon as the snow began to melt, the tennis enthusiasts were once again practicing their strokes at the familiar back-board. Although there are only two varsity players returning, Nancy Morse and Prudy Morton, anticipated strength comes from Sue Clark, Jean McKenzie, Mickie Coon, Lee Abbott, Natalie Bellows, Marcia Harris, and Diana d'Elseaux. All the girls this year are very willing and determined to work hard for their top varsity positions and thus an excellent season is expected.

Several girls have received New England rankings: Prue Morton, number eight in the Junior Singles; Jean McKenzie and Lee Abbott, numbers four and eleven respectively in the Girls' Singles; and Jean and Lee, placed number two in the Girls' Doubles.

The team is being coached by Dottie Hills. The schedule is similar to previous years with Belmont and Winsor furnishing the most competition and Concord, Malden, Arlington, Melrose, and Hingham completing the list. The match with the boys at the end of the season also furnishes plenty of competition and fun.

First Row: S. Weston, B. Johnson, T. Ordway, J. Moulton, D. Folkers, B. Becker. Second Row: B. McNitt, B. Harlow, D. Clark, R. Bingham, B. Ware, Mr. Fitts.

Boys' Tennis

With winter on the way out, the unbeatable backboard will soon be host to rusty players, trying to get back into some semblance of shape. The varsity players returning are Moulton, Ordway, Becker, Clark, and Bingham, who should help the varsity to do as well, if not better than the 1953 team. Also returning are Folkers, Johnson, Harlow, McNitt, who along with several new players, will help to strengthen the J. V. and varsity teams. Mr. Fitts will again give his invaluable aid to the squad.

There are eleven games scheduled this year, the Andover J. V.'s being the only new team on the list to play the varsity. Winchester should make a good showing in the State Tournament which will be held at Winchester again this year, having finished in second place last year to Newton by only one point. In the fall tournament Becker came through in fine style to win it.

First Row: B. Venardi, A. Hersey, P. McNally, M. Lynch. Second Row: M. Barnes, S. Scanlon, N. Samarco, L. DiZio, B. Bellino.

Softball

Come spring, come softball! This year's varsity looked forward to an excellent season equally comparable to last year's 6-1 record. With returning lettermen, Captain McNally playing around second sack and Alison Hersey on third, plus the invaluable battery of Lorraine DiZio and Leora Peckham, which last year chalked up a 6-0 record and was credited with only one walk in six games; and fly snatchers, Marcia Lynch, Sheila Scanlon and Betty Bellino, in the field, their hopes and expectations were justly founded. Coached by Miss Mildred Barnes, the team had all the earmarks for a good season. Relying on the senior newcomers Sheila Gallivan, Gracie van Hulsteyn, and Florence Newton and juniors Nancy Samarco and Bobby Venardi, this year's team went ahead well prepared to meet its rivals.

Baseball

With only five veterans returning Coach Provinzano will start his second year as varsity baseball coach somewhat shorthanded. He is quite fortunate, however, in having some splendid material available from last year's J. V. and freshman teams.

In the starting line-up he has Captain Bob McLaughlin at third, Joe DiIorio at first, Bob Jacobellis at right field, Warren Goodnow as catcher, and Dave Pratt as pitcher. He should also get additional support from Ralph Kerrigan and Roger Delorey on the mound. The outlook for the season is very bright and the boys that played together last year, with the necessary assistance of the newcomers, will be giving their best as they fight for a chance at the coveted Middlesex League Championship.

Coach Provinzano did a great job last season, his first year with the varsity, and with the promising material coming up, maturing as the season goes on, he should have a team Winchester can be proud to call its own.

Golf Team

This year's golf team, under the direction of Coach Otis Leary, promises to have a very successful season. Although there are only two returning letter men, Bob Willing and John Page, the team will be ably assisted by good material from the freshman and sophomore classes. With the opening of the golf season this year Winchester Country Club will again be patronized by WHS students. Besides the regular scheduled matches, the Varsity looks forward to the annual battle of the fairways with the faculty. At the time of going to press the team schedule had not been completed, but it is expected that Winchester will play, as in past years, Melrose, Concord, Wakefield, Reading, Saint Sebastian's and Brookline. The caliber of this year's team justifies high hopes for the coming spring matches.

First Row: J. Beggs, C. Govostes, D. Rotundi, T. Hennessey, P. O'Brien, G. Eaton, K. Wright, H. McKinley, J. Riordan, C. Muncaster, H. Morgan. Second Row: Mr. Knowlton, W. Hosmer, D. Lewis, H. Track

It won't be long until the track squad will be down on Manchester Field limbering up for the Middlesex Inter-Class Meet on April 30. This year the team is scheduled for dual-meets, the Quad Meet, State Meet and the League Meet.

With ten lettermen returning from last year's varsity squad of fourteen, prospects look good.

Dashmen will include Co-Captains Guerry Eaton and Paul O'Brien, Bernie Marvin, Dave Rotundi, Kent Wright, and Charley Govostes. O'Brien, Wright, and Rotundi will run in the 100, Eaton and Marvin in the 220 and Govostes in the 440. The middle distance races will find Hank Morgan and Bill Johnston running the 880 and John Becker, Lou Farrell, and Jack Borggaard in the mile.

In the field events the local tracksters will have Tim Hennessey and Jim Cusack putting the shot, John Riordan and Jim Cusack in the discus, Bud McKinley and Craig Muncaster in the high jump, and Dave Rotundi in the broad jump. The hurdle specialist will be Don Palladino.

First Row: B. Martensen, A. Harrington, V. Bullard, S. Cunningham, K. Cleaves, A. Robertson, S. Wadsworth, N. Switzer, G. Collins, S. Gallivan. Second Row: C. Ashenden, C. Gowdy, C. Brown, D. Rifle Club

The Rifle Club is celebrating its seventh birthday this year. Under the capable direction of Mr. Joseph Aversa, it has continued to grow in size and popularity.

The able President of this year's club is Andy Robertson. His assistants include Kendall Cleaves as Vice-President, Sally Cunningham as Secretary, and Suzanne Wadsworth as Treasurer.

Connected with the Rifle Club are the Girls' and Boys' Rifle Teams. These teams are composed of the ten highest ranking girls and boys. Captain of the Girls' Team for this year is Marcia Cunningham, while Lee Staff leads the Boys' Team.

Front Row: B. Martensen, S. Wadsworth, M. Cunningham, V. Bullard, S. Cunningham. Back Row: C. Gowdy, D. Norris, A. Harrington, B. Lathrop, G. Cullen, Mr. Aversa.

Ski Club

At the first meeting in late November each member of the Ski Club signed the club roster and classified himself as a novice, intermediate or advanced skier. Those present decided that the organization might be most successfully managed by a small executive committee. Kent Wright, Charlie Stevens, and Anne Marks were chosen members of this group. Several members made suggestions for a weekend trip during the late winter. Applications for Junior membership in the United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association were made available for Ski Club members. This allowed our members the privileges of the large association which is so active. At the February meeting a movie was shown. Everyone expressed the hope that snow, transportation, and other necessary elements would make a ski weekend in New Hampshire possible for Ski Club members.

Tumblettes

After the innovation of last year's Tumbling Indians, the tumblettes switched not only to new uniforms, but new and varied routines. Making great strides this year, they tumbled at one-half of the football games and added new sparkle to several pep rallies. With the help of Mr. Felmet and the Band, the routines were done to the accompaniment of lively marches symbolic of the football season. Only hard work and long hours of practice could make possible the precision and skill with which these girls executed their difficult stunts. It is hoped that they will not only continue to do a good job, but will also improve as they gain experience in each successive year.

Successful yearbooks require many hours of planning, writing, checking, coordinating. Painstaking attention to the myriad details of such a volume is a "must."

Wholehearted cooperation by Faculty Advisor, Staff and printer is essential for this is an ingredient of major importance in producing really fine yearbooks.

As Printing Counselors, it is our function to guide embryo editors, business managers, copywriters and artists along proper channels. When the copy is all written and edited, the pictures selected and carefully identified, the dummy arranged, everything in order—and the work of the Staff completed—then do we assume responsibility for all of the additional details incident to the mechanics of engraving, printing and binding.

Such is the general routine of yearbook production. To Mr. Ulin and the Staff of the 1954 "Aberjona" we express our thanks and appreciation for their wonderful cooperation.
